

Do You Like Honest Square Dealing?

Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines are put out under the belief that publicity is the best possible guaranty of merit, and that the most intelligent people generally want to know what they take into their stomachs, whether it be as food, drink or medicine. Although it was a bold step to take, and quite out of the usual practice of makers of proprietary medicines, yet Dr. Pierce, some time ago, decided to publish broadcast and on all his bottle-wrappers all the ingredients entering into the composition, or make-up, of his celebrated family medicines. A square deal is therefore assured every one using his medicines, for one knows exactly what he or she is paying for when purchasing them, since every ingredient is published in plain English on the bottle-wrappers and the correctness of the same attested under solemn oath. These several ingredients are selected from among the very best known to medical science for the cure of the various diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

The most eminent and leading medical teachers and writers of all the several schools of practice have endorsed each of the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines in the strongest possible terms. The makers of Dr. Pierce's medicines believe that intelligent people do not wish to open their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulp down whatever is presented to them, either in the way of food, drink or medicine, without knowing something of the properties and harmless character of the agents employed. They believe that health is too sacred a heritage to be experimented with, and that people should not take medicines of the composition of which they are kept in ignorance. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made wholly from the roots of plants found growing in the depths of our American forests. They are so compounded that they cannot do harm in any case, even to the most delicate woman or child. By open publicity Dr. Pierce has taken his medicines out of the list of secret nostrums, of doubtful merit, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. They are therefore, in a class all by themselves, being absolutely and in every sense non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

There is a badge of honesty on every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the full list of its ingredients duly attested as correct under solemn oath.

No other medicines put up for general use through druggists can make claim to any such distinction, and none other than Dr. Pierce's medicines have any such professional endorsement of their ingredients. Such professional endorsement should have far more weight with the afflicted than any amount of lay, or non-professional, endorsement, or testimonials.

Of course, the exact proportion of each ingredient used in Dr. Pierce's medicines as well as the working formula or manner of preparing the same, and the specially devised apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may be fully protected from such unprincipled imitators as might be practically inclined.

The preparation of these medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol, so generally employed and yet so harmful, in the long run, to most invalids when its use is long continued, even in small doses, cost Dr. Pierce several years of careful study and labor, with the aid of skilled pharmacists and chemists to assist him. Naturally, he does not care to give away his scientific and exact processes for preparing these medicines, but he does want to deal in the most open manner with all his patrons and patients, and under this frank, open and honest way of dealing, they may know exactly what they are taking when using his medicines.

What Do They Cure? This question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative and healing way upon all the mucous lining surfaces as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve. For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

JEFF DAVIS' LAST JOURNEY

As President of the Confederacy, Described by a Georgia Girl

An interesting glimpse of Jefferson Davis and his personal escort in retreat at the end of the war, is published in Appleton's from the war-time diary of a Georgia girl, whose journal has proved so interesting. Here is an extract:

"About noon the town was thrown into the wildest excitement by the arrival of President Davis. He is traveling with a large escort of cavalry, which seems to be a very imprudent thing for a man in his position to do. He rode into town ahead of his escort, and as he was passing by the bank where the Elzeys board, the general and several other gentlemen were sitting on the front porch, and the instant they recognized him they took off their hats and received him with every mark of respect due the president of a brave people. When he reined in his horse all the staff who were present advanced to hold the reins and assist him to dismount, while Dr. and Mrs. Robertson hastened to offer the hospitality of their home. About forty of his immediate personal friends and attendants were with him, and they were all half-starved, having tasted nothing for 24 hours. Captain Erwin came running home in great haste to ask mother to send him something to eat, as it was reported the Yankees were approaching the town from two opposite directions, closing in upon the president, and it was necessary to hurry him off at once. There was not so much as a crust of bread in our house, everything available having been given to the soldiers. There was some bread in the kitchen that had just been baked for a party of his friends, who gave him a serious talk and advised him to travel with more secrecy and dispatch than he had been using.

"Mr. Reagan and Mr. Mallory are also in town, and Gen. Tombs has returned, having encountered danger ahead. I fear. Judge Crump is back, too, with his Confederate treasury, containing, it is said, $300,000 in specie. He is staying at our home, but the treasury is thought to be stored in the vault at the bank. It will hardly be necessary for him to leave the country, but his friends advise him to keep in the shade for a time. If the Yankees once get scent of the money, they will be sure to ferret it out. They have already begun their reign of terror in Richmond, it is said, by arresting many of the prominent citizens. Judge Crump is in a state of distraction about his poor little wandering exchequer, which seems to stand an even chance between the Scylla of our own hungry cavalry and the Charybdis of Northern cupidity. I wish it could all be divided among the men whose necks are in danger to assist them in getting out of the country, but I don't suppose one of them would touch it. Anything would be preferable to letting the Yankees get it."

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c. at all drug-stores.

A NEW MOVE

Speaking of getting men to attend church and hear sermons, an Atlantic City assistant rector has devised a new scheme. In a hall connected with the church building he collects men every Sunday evening. They look at some educative moving pictures, hear a practical sermon and during the services they smoke all they want to—the tobacco and cigars being furnished from a collective fund raised for that purpose.—Ex.

MRS. GUINNESS' MURDER MANIA

Killed Men for the Fun of It as Well as Their Money

Mrs. Belle Guinness, according to a statement made by Coroner Mack, of LaPorte, Ind., not only killed because she had an uncontrollable mania for taking human life, but love of money was an impelling motive for luring victims to her chamber of death. A list of her victims is appended, starting with the first husband, who was poisoned, quickly followed by her second marriage, and the murder of Peter Guinness, after she had been his legal wife but three months, with the sums each crime yielded:

Mads Sorenson, first husband, $8,000; Peter Guinness, second husband, $5,000; Andrew Helgelein, Aberdeen S. Dak., $2,900; Herman Konitzer, Chicago, Ill., $5,000; Charles Edman, New Carlisle, Ind., $5,000; George Berry, Tuscola, Ill., $1,500; Ole Budsberg, Iowa, Wis., $2,000; H. Gunhalt, Scandinavia, Wis., $1,000; unidentified bodies, estimated on the belief that each contributed $1,000. Mrs. Guinness' lowest amount exacted from woe-worers, $6,000; persons believed to have been lured to their deaths in the Guinness house, whose bodies have been found, $7,000; three children sent to the Guinness house by unknown persons to be killed, at $1,000 each, $3,000. Total, $46,900.

THE MODERN SHYLOCK

"Please wrap up all my purchases," said the grouchy customer.

"Why, I've done so," replied the cash grocer.

"Beg pardon, but you haven't," retorted the g. c.

"What have I left undone up?"

"That thumb of yours that you weighed up with the butter!" snorted the g. c. "I want it for dog meat. Wrap it up!"—Judge.

GOOD WORDS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A VETERAN TEXAN

An old Texan who was not pre-eminently notorious for veracity was telling some of his neighbors what a fine cow he possessed.

"Why, do you know," said he, "that cow has been giving milk ever since she was eighteen months old, and has never had a calf. Something peculiar about that stock of cattle; that cow's mother never had a calf."—Judge.
